Her lord had gone a long way off, (And stopped too long there, too,)
So the lady increased her skirts at home.
With her "hoop de dooden do !"

Long mouths rolled on-a year flew by,

(To stop time, hever sue.) Btill the lady's skirts in style stuck out From her "hoop-de-dooden-do! Towards winter her lord came home, (Perhaps his nose looked blue,) lie "smelt a mice" and started at the skirts
And their "hoop-de-dooden-dol"

At length he spake note his wife, (Now, good wives all speak true.) "My dear, what makes your skirts swell out?"
"Why, my ' hoop de dooden do?" The good man saw 'twas fashion's whim, (E'en a fashtion wives pursue.)

And he yows his wife's skirts scared him so, With their "hoop-de-dooden-do!"

CAMP-MEETING INCIDENTS .-- The readers of the U. S. Journal may remember the story of the "soaping" of the signal horn. The story runs, that, when a certain revivalist celebri took up the horn, to summon the worshipers to services, after dinner, one day he blew a strong blast of soft-so p all over the astonished breth era. It is also said by the chronicler of thi item" that the brother was so wroth at the joke that he cried out aloud, " Brethren, I have passed through many trials and tribulations but nothing like this. I have served the ministry It tells you for thirty years, and in that time have never u tered a profane word, but I'll be cuss'd if I can' whip the man that soaped that horn,"

Well, this is a strong story; but we have, from a reliable authority, something a little stronge in the sequel to the same incident. This is given to us as follows:

Some two days after the horn-soaping, a tall swarthy, villain vas looking desperad. s rolled or the grounds and leaned against a tree, listening to the eloquent exhortation to repeat which were heing made by the preacher. After a while h became interested, finally affected, and then tool a position on the auxious seat, com a neer grouning in "the very bitterness" of his sorrow The clergymen walked down and endeavored to console him. No consolation-he was too greea sinner, he said. Oh, no-there was pardor for the vitest. No, he was too wicked-ther was no mercy for him. "Why, what crime have you committed?

said the pre c'er, " have you stolen ?" "Oh, worse then that!" "What! have you by violence robbed female innoconce of its virine ?" " Wors: than that-ob, worse than that?" "Murder, is i? gasped the hornfied pre-

FALL AND WINTER GOODS! Those who have not visited George

Albert & Co.'s lately would be surprised, on calling there, to see the immense quantity of Goods that are being sold.

The cause is evident; they keep the best of Goods, and sell them lower than best of Goods, and sell them lower than 24 ft. on bettom; sections 23 & 32 inclusive, 3 ft. on bottom; the beginning to learn that it is a losing operation to go to Toledo for their Dry Goods and Groceries, and to none is this fact more evident than to those who have examined goods and prices at Geo. Albert & Co's. They are constituted to give bonds for the faithful performance of the County Commissioners, on will be required to give bonds for the faithful performance of the County Commissioners, on the county Commissioners, on the county Commissioners, or before the 1st of Oct. 1850. All successful bidders will be required to give bonds for the faithful performance of the county Commissioners, or the county Commission at Geo. Albert & Co.'s. They are conand defy competition as regards quality and price. Having once purchased a bill of goods at this establishment, no one can go away groaming because the "times are hard."
